

This is regarding LPFM taking priority over normal FM signals in the Virginia Beach/Hampton Roads, VA area. I am a regular listener to KLOVE radio station. This station serves my local community by providing clean, unoffensive music for my family. There is not one other radio station in the area that plays decent music that has no foul language in it. KLOVE also has no commercials, which saves my children from being bombarded by advertising.

If KLOVE were replaced by another station, I would lose a very important part of my spiritual beliefs, guaranteed by the First Amendment. This station plays Christian music and delivers Christian news without all of the blood and guts and general negativity of normal radio.

I think there would be a negative impact on the community if KLOVE were replaced by an LPFM station. There are enough secular radio stations out there: please don't take this one away!

I listen to KLOVE during my commute to and from work, about 45 minutes each way. I know that this music calms my heart and makes me a less aggressive driver - how can I be mad at someone when I'm worshipping God? I am certain that other people in their cars who listen to KLOVE share a similar experience.

Bottom line: the service provided by KLOVE is in the best interest of the general public and needs to remain on the air. Even if you don't believe in God, Jesus or the Bible, the message it gives is one of peace and doing good for your fellow man/woman. If there are any other stations on the air broadcasting this message, please let me know. Please do not replace KLOVE with LPFM stations.
